

Introduction

When you start FlingIt 2.0 you are given three options. The Open button will list old web content that you have already downloaded. The Download site button will allow you to download web content from your computer to your palm. The last button will open the last web content that was viewed on your FlingIt program.

Flinging “It”

In order to “Fling” desired web content to your handheld device follow the steps listed below.

- 1) Once at the desired web page click on the FlingIt button in the IE explorer tool bar.
- 2) Set the color status and link depth in the FlingIt Options menu.
- 3) Put your handheld device in its cradle.
- 4) Start the FlingIt program on your handheld device and then tap on Download site.
- 5) Click on the FlingIt! button at the bottom of the window.

When using FlingIt 2.0 for Windows, you will see this menu in the menu bar of your web browser. You will have the option of which color scheme you want FlingIt to send to your handheld. You will also have the option of changing the Link Depth for the pages that you download to your handheld. With this you can either follow off site links or follow links only on the same site. It is very important to be careful when changing these settings because it can drastically add to the amount of pages downloaded based on the number of links of the web page.
